Summary of environmental health evaluation:

At the time of inspection the facility was found in a generally satisfactory condition. However, there were a few minor issues. Thermometer on a refrigerator was found inaccurate along with and an ice built up in a freezer. Water flow in one of the cells found not sufficient. However, service technician was called in to correct at the time of inspection. There are no female inmates at this facility. Potentially hazardous food are delivered from Santa Rita, kept refrigerated, pre-heated prior to being served. The temperature regarding holding, and preheat temperature requirements are properly met prior to being served. All the leftovers, if any, are discarded.

Summary of nutritional evaluation:

2016 Inspection:

This inspection, conducted on March 15, 2016, reviewed the nutritional health of inmates at Glen Dyer jail, which houses County and U.S. Marshall inmates. There is capacity for housing approximately 820 inmates on the six floors at this facility. Approximately 370 inmates were housed at the time of inspection. Average stay varies between several days to several years.

Three floors were inhabited by inmates during this inspection:

Floor 1: Admin/Segregation – eat in the cell (no vending)

Floors 4 & 6: Mainline – eat in outer congregating area (use tokens for vending)

Recreation time was reportedly available seven days/week on a rotational basis and depending on staff availability. Inmates were reported to have a minimum of three hours/week outdoor recreation time on the roof.

Food Service

ARAMARK continues to manage the food service operations off-site, ordering food, performing administrative duties, and documenting activities during food production at the Santa Rita Jail central kitchen. Alameda County staff supervises and develops policies and procedures. Deputies in the kitchen and inmate units were well versed on food service policies and procedures.

All deputies who work in the kitchen and inmate units were well informed of inmates on therapeutic diets, and there was a hard copy list hanging in each unit of all inmates housed in that unit who were on a therapeutic diet. These lists matched the computer diet orders. Most of the meals and carts were labeled, and there was evidence of rotation of food to prevent spoilage, reducing food safety issues. "Dead man" trays were on hand for the past three days, should an outbreak of food-borne illness occur. A "Daily Food Quality Survey" is completed each day for each meal, and these documents were on file in the kitchen office.

Inmates with diabetes continue to receive their snack bags in the morning along with their breakfast trays. This was an important and recommended policy change in 2013 and it continues to be in place.

A taste test of a sample lunch was conducted by five public health inspectors attending the facility inspection. Based on the taste test of two sample meals conducted by the inspection team, the inmate meal was generally acceptable. The foods tasted included:

Breakfast: farina, diced ham, hash brown potatoes, biscuit

Dinner: hot dog, pinto beans, mixed vegetables (green beans and carrots), shredded cabbage, and cake.

The colors of breakfast foods were all beige, and did not come across as too appealing. The general appearance was "OK". Upon tasting, the farina was "very good", and enjoyed by the tasters. The diced ham and potatoes were "OK". The potatoes were served in two of the three tray compartments, and were deemed bland tasting. The ham was served on top of the potatoes in one of the compartments. The ham caused the potatoes to taste odd.

The dinner meal was more colorful and visually appealing. The hot dogs were standard; cooked vegetables were of excellent texture; cabbage was crisp and appeared fresh. The texture and flavor of the cake was described as "excellent".

The meal as a whole met standards for serving size and balance. The protein amount provided in the sample meal was sufficient for meeting Title 15 standards.

ARAMARK will be changing their menu over the course of the next year to make the menu more environmentally sustainable.

Medical

Eighty-three (83) inmates were recorded as needing a special diet at the time of inspection. The majority of special diets prescribed are "lowfat/cholesterol/salt" (31), allergy/intolerance diets (17), vegetarian (17), diabetic (11), and hepatic (5).

Seventeen (17) inmate medical charts were reviewed. These charts were organized in a specific order to assist in locating specific records. It would be helpful to have more tabs in the charts according to section (i.e., medical order, lab, intake forms, medical notes, etc.)

Of the charts reviewed that required dietary restrictions:

- 100% of audited charts had a MD diet order matching the special needs of the inmate;
- 100% of audited charts had a diet slip indicating the correct prescribed diet was ordered by the nurse and submitted to food service;
- 76% of special diet orders indicated on the food service computerized list of diets matched the respective diets prescribed.

There is clearly good follow through on the medical staff in the ordering of appropriate therapeutic diets. There is a break down, however, in the communication between medical and the kitchen. Many discrepancies were noted between the medical diet that was ordered for particular inmates and the diet that was listed on the computer system that the kitchen uses to serve the meals. While the inmate diets that were in question were addressed by the medical unit who was going to be in contact with the kitchen to remedy the differences, the communication system needs to be revised so no inmate on special diets falls through the cracks and receives a meal that is not accurate.

A chronic care clinic is available for inmates who have heart disease, diabetes, and HIV.

Two inmates were interviewed. Overall they felt the health care received is within reason, considering it is a detention facility. One inmate complained of not receiving his medical diet as prescribed. This was confirmed and brought to the attention of the medical unit for follow up.

The snack vending machines were removed from the inmate units last year. Beverage machines were still available. The contents of these machines need to change to comply with the Nutrition and Physical Activity Policy and Guidelines passed by the Board of Supervisors in October 2009. Currently, water is the only healthy option available from which to choose in some machines. According to policy, 50% of available beverages in vending machines serviced on County-owned and leased property need to meet the healthy criteria. Additionally, the vending machines in the lobby waiting area need to reflect the same guidelines.

The commissary list was reviewed for healthy options. Very few healthy options are available for inmate selection. It is recommended that some of the lesser healthier options on the list be replaced with healthier options so inmates have an option.

2016 Recommendations (2)

Recommendation 1: Set up a system to insure medically-necessary meals served are in compliance.

An improvement in a communication system between medical and the kitchen needs to be made. Some inmates on medically-prescribed diets are not receiving the diets as ordered.

Recommendation 2: Update the Diet Manual in Food Services

The Diet Manual in Food Services and Medical needs to be reviewed annually and be acknowledged by signature by the overseeing Dietitian and the facility manager.

2016 Suggestions: (1)

I. Review the vending contract and increase the number of healthful snacks and beverages to a minimum of 50% of the available items (2011, 2012, 2013, 2014, 2015)

Per Alameda County Nutrition and Physical Activity Policy and Guidelines passed by the Board of Supervisors in October 2009, at least 50% of vending items served in the vending machines (snack and beverage) need to meet the following nutrition standards:

Healthy Option Criteria for Snacks:

- a. Have no more than 35% of its calories from total fat (not including nuts & seeds);
- b. Have no more than 10% of its calories from saturated fat.
- c. Have no more than 35% sugar by weight (not including fruits or vegetables).

Healthy Option Criteria for beverages:

- a. No high fructose corn syrup
- b. No more than 12 fluid ounces or more than 200 total calories
- c. At least 40% of all beverages must be non-carbonated
- d. Water and other non-caloric beverages containing neither nutritive or non-nutritive sweeteners
- e. Carbonated or non-carbonated fruit juice beverages containing at least 50% fruit juice, neither nutritive or non-nutritive sweeteners
- f. Beverages with added nutritive sweeteners containing more than 50 calories per 8 ounces, 75 calories per 12 ounces, or 100 total calories per container.

If psychotropic medication is administered in an emergency, such medication is only that which is required to treat the emergency condition.	x
Medication is prescribed by a physician in written form in the inmate's record following a clinical evaluation in person or by telephone. Verbal orders are entered in the inmate's record and signed by a physician within 72 hours.	x
There is a protocol for supervising and monitoring inmates who are involuntarily receiving psychotropic medication.	x		?	Were told that the jail does not do involuntarily medications at the jail and that inmates are taken to John George.
Psychotropic medication is not administered to an inmate absent an emergency unless: (1) the inmate has given his or her informed consent in accordance with WIC § 5326.2; or, (2) has been found to lack the capacity to give consent pursuant to the county's hearing procedures under the Lanterman-Petris-Short (LPS) Act for handling capacity determinations and subsequent reviews. (Note: Inspectors need to be aware of differing consent requirements for juveniles held in adult facilities.)	x
Policies limit the length of time both voluntary and involuntary psychotropic medications may be administered.	x
There is a plan for monitoring and re-evaluating all inmates receiving psychotropic medications, including a review of all emergency situations.	x
The administration of psychotropic medication is not allowed for disciplinary reasons.	x
1219 Suicide Prevention Program				J-G-05.00

1058 Use of Restraint Devices  (Note: The regulation distinguishes "use of force" from use of restraints. The provisions of this regulation do not apply to the use of handcuffs, shackles or other restraint devices when used to restrain minors for movement or transportation. Health inspectors should familiarize themselves with this discussion in the Medical-Mental Health Guidelines and contact their CSA Field Representative if there are questions regarding applicability to a particular facility.)  Restraints are used only to hold inmates who display behavior that results in the destruction of property or reveals an intent to cause physical harm to self or others.	X
Restraints are not used as a discipline or as a substitute for treatment.	X
There are policies and procedures for the use of restraint devices including acceptable restraint devices; signs or symptoms which should result in immediate medical/mental health referral; availability of CPR equipment; protective housing of restrained persons; provisions for hydration and sanitation needs; and exercising of extremities.	X
Inmates are placed in restraints only with approval of the facility manager, watch commander, or if delegated, a physician.	X
All inmates in restraints are housed alone or in a specified area for restrained inmates.	X
Direct visual observation is conducted and logged at least twice every 30 minutes.	X
Continued retention in such restraints is reviewed every two hours.	X
A medical opinion on placement and retention is secured as soon as possible but no later than four hours from the time of placement.	X
Medical review for continued retention in restraint devices occurs at a minimum of every six hours.	X
A mental health consultation is secured as soon as possible, but no later than eight hours from the time of placement.	X
